

ATTENDANCE AND WORKING HOURS POLICY

Sample Organization | Human Resources

1. Standard Working Hours

The standard working schedule is 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM, Monday through Friday, including a one-hour meal break, unless a different schedule is assigned.

2. Attendance Recording

Employees must record attendance using the designated attendance system.

3. Late Arrival

Employees arriving late should notify their manager when the delay is known in advance or unavoidable.

4. Early Departure

Early departure during scheduled working hours requires manager approval except in emergencies.

5. Remote Attendance

Employees approved for remote work must follow the same attendance and availability expectations.

6. Absence

Unapproved absence may be treated as a policy violation and may affect attendance records.

7. Flexible Scheduling

Certain roles may use flexible schedules subject to manager approval and business requirements.

8. Overtime

Overtime must be approved in advance where required by company procedures.

9. Attendance Corrections

Attendance discrepancies should be reported to HR within five working days.
