

EMPLOYEE CODE OF CONDUCT

Sample Organization | Human Resources

1. Purpose

The Code of Conduct establishes expected professional behavior and ethical standards.

2. Respectful Workplace

Employees must treat colleagues, customers, vendors, and visitors with professionalism and respect.

3. Harassment

Harassment, bullying, discrimination, intimidation, or retaliation is not permitted.

4. Conflicts of Interest

Employees must disclose actual or potential conflicts of interest to the appropriate manager or HR representative.

5. Confidential Information

Employees must protect confidential business, employee, customer, and technical information.

6. Company Property

Company equipment, systems, credentials, and resources must be used responsibly and for authorized purposes.

7. Gifts and Hospitality

Employees must follow company requirements concerning gifts, hospitality, and business benefits.

8. Reporting Concerns

Employees may report suspected misconduct through approved HR or ethics reporting channels.

9. Non-Retaliation

Good-faith reporting of a concern should not result in retaliation.

10. Policy Reference

Policy Owner: Human Resources. Review Cycle: Annual. Policy Version: 2026.1.